GAS COMPANY NAME CHANGED

The Stamford & Western Gas Company of which the local distribution plant is a part has been combined with the Community Natural Gas Company and will be operated hereafter under this name, according to word received there Thursday by W. H. Braymer, local manager, from M. L. Bird of Abilene, division superintendent. The reorganization involves no change in operating policies or personnel.

General management will continue under Chester L. May of Dallas, vice-president and general manager, while divisional management continues under Mr. Bird.

The Community Natural was organized in 1925 to supply gas to a number of small towns, principally along or near the right-of-way of Lone Star Gas Company's pipe lines, and is a pioneer company in natural gas distribution. It has grown rapidly in keeping pace with the increased demand for the convenience and economy of natural gas until today it serves more than 300 Texas and Oklahoma towns and is one of the largest natural gas distribution systems in the country. Stamford & Western Gas Company became a member of the Lone Star Gas System in 1930.

All Stamford & Western distribution points are included in the change. They are Stamford, Hamlin, Snyder, Rotan, Anson, Haskell, Rule, Roby, Seymour, Margaret, Truscott, Gilliland, Vera, Red Springs, Benjamin, Munday, Weinert, Goree, Knox City, O'Brien, Rochester and Rhinecland.

In announcing the change, Mr. Bird said, "The reorganization will permit us to continue the present complete gas service we have been rendering in Hamlin and to improve this service wherever possible. One of the new services we hope to render to our customers is to show them the advantages of proper house heating this winter. It is well known that many of the common colds and more serious illnesses prevalent in this section in the winter time are due to improperly heated homes. By rendering a complete and efficient service at all hours of the day and night, we hope to merit the continued support and co-operation of our customers."

SAME NAME FOR MCCAULEY AND SYLVESTER

The Northwest Texas Gas Company of which the distribution plant at McCauley and Sylvester is a part has been combined with the Community Natural Gas Company and will be operated hereafter under this name, according to word received here Thursday by notice to local manager, from M. L. Bird of Abilene, division superintendent. The reorganization involves no changes in operating policies or personnel.

ONLY 127 BALES

A government report, as given out by E. Earl Isbill, Special Agent, for Cotton Statistics in Jones Co., says that prior to Sept. 16, there were 127 bales of cotton ginned in the County of Jones as compared to 8,997, same date, 1934.

WHAT THE SENIORS ARE DOING

The Seniors have made more history by electing a Senior Queen and her Escort. The Queen is Miss Mary Beth Moody. For escort, the class selected John Calvin Jenkins. You know him well for his daring and valor on the field of battle (football and basketball in plain English). Queen Mary and King John! How does that sound? For class colors the choice was purple and gold—royal colors for our Royal Family. We also have a mascot and since I know you'd never guess what, I'll tell you. It's a white goose! (Now, isn't that just ducky?)

Perhaps some of our audience do not know it, but the Seniors are sponsoring a subscription contest. The class is divided into two parts. Charles Hodges is leader of the "Cyclones" and Ann Ferguson is leader of the "Whirlwinds." When a Senior comes to your door and says, "Lady," I'm working my way through College," just smile and say with kindness and patience that you will gladly subscribe to the Holland's Magazine. Remember you were once a Senior.

JUNIORS! JUNIORS!

The Juniors had a class meeting, Tuesday, October 2, and selected a motto and class colors. Our motto is "A Live Wire Never Gets Stepped On," and our colors are blue and white.

Mr. Carl Pee was elected assistant sponsor of the class, and we feel that we have made a good selection in choosing him.

The Juniors are off on a good start toward making this the best Junior class that Hamlin High School has ever had. Beulah Lou Burness was elected class queen.

The Juniors have begun to worry about the Junior-Senior Banquet as it takes a good bit of money for that affair, but the Junior will get it some way. You just see if they don't. Please keep your eye on the Juniors and their reports.

IT'S THOSE SOPHOMORES AGAIN

In order to make this year of school work more interesting and enjoyable, the members of the Sophomore class have planned a definite program and are striving to make the dream a realization. According to our motto, "We will root them all out by and by." We do have a great deal of work to do but we have prepared to meet the first battle.

The finance committee, Milton Sanford, Patsy O'Donnell, Fay La Verne Howard, Mattie Wilkerson, and Morrison Nicholson, has made plans to start the class treasury, which is a very important step.

We are also looking forward to the time when we can present the school with a Sophomore Class paper. This would mean that one part of the program would be materialized and accomplished one of the most important mediums in the making of a school.

After the business is over there is always some type of amusement for those involved. The Sophomores, unlike those that are planning to add a touch of individualism to their fall entertainment, have turned back the time to the old romantic days when the Louisiana hay rides were popular and revived the old fashioned picnics. Faye Dunham, Eddie Freedman, Charles Prater and Mary Emily Eakin, the social committee, have planned such a picnic and are anticipating a very pleasant evening. Everyone of the Sophomores, decorated in their class colors, black and yellow, will meet in front of the school building Monday evening at 6:00 o'clock, before leaving for the Double Mountain River. We will be accompanied by our sponsor, Mr. Cox, who will supply the majority of the fun on the picnic.

STATEMENT CONCERNING FARM DEBT ADJUSTMENT

Farm debt adjustment work throughout the nation has been reorganized and taken over by the Re-settlement Administration and greatly strengthened by recent legislative enactment providing an effective legal procedure to meet foreclosure on farms in the recent Amendment to the Bankruptcy law taking the place of the Frazier-Lemke Act ruled unconstitutional.

TO DISTRESSED FARM HOME OWNERS IN JONES CO.

This is to advise you if you are in debt distress, a committee of three men, with whom you are personally acquainted, have been carefully selected because of their known public spirit and worthiness, and appointed by the Governor of the state of Texas to assist you as arbitrators or conciliators, call on them for advice and help.

In Jones County they are as follows: C. C. McCargo, Chairman, J. Roy Edwards and A. S. Barber members. Their office will be with the Rural County Supervisors, Ed C. Lewis of Roby, Texas.

If your case assumes the seriousness of foreclosure and all efforts to settle through the Committee fail, then you should meet this legal action by filing your case with the Conciliation Commissioner, appointed by the Federal Judge for your County.

The Conciliation Commissioner of your County is J. D. Shackelford.

The objective of the whole procedure is to stop wholesale foreclosure of farm homes and to help worthy debt-distressed farmers. Many hundreds of cases have been settled by the procuring of extension of time and composition agreements, and many worthy farmers now in need of this service do not know how to obtain it or do not know that such service is available.

The Re-settlement Administration have set up a Divisional office in Lubbock, Texas, to which distressed farmers may appeal, if in doubt what to do and this Divisional office is in charge of what is known as, a Regional F. D. A. Specialist, who will maintain an "Advisory Board" to give information to both distressed debtors and attorneys concerning what is commonly known as the "Frazier-Lamke Act" and the procedure in Conciliation Commissioners' Courts.

Letters addressed to the Divisional Office, Lubbock, Texas, will have immediate attention and the case will be referred to the proper parties for settlement.

There is also provided two District Supervisors in the Lubbock Division, same being Mr. Hugh F. Weaver, of Lubbock, who has under his supervision A & M Extension Districts Nos. 2 and 3.

And Mr. J. S. Fischer of Amarillo, who has under his supervision A & M Extension Districts Nos. 1 and 10.

Remember, if in debt trouble, either contact your local Committeemen, your Conciliation Commissioner, your Rural Supervisor, or your local Co. Agent, who will advise you; or address a letter direct to the District Supervisor, or to Guion Gregg, Regional F. D. A. Specialist, Divisional Office, Lubbock, Texas.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday brings us another special day in the history of the Sunday School. The new officers and teachers will be on hand to take charge of their classes and official positions.

New literature will be distributed for this quarter and the Publishing House is sending out two "brand-new" articles in the Magazine for the Home and literature for the Nursery. Some new classes have been formed and new rooms assigned to them. We invite those of you who have been depriving yourself of the benefits of being in a Sunday School class to start with us at the beginning of this new year's work.

Preaching services 11:00 A. M. Subject: "Perpetual Christian Service." Communion service will be observed. The choir has been reorganized and are doing some mighty good singing. At the evening services extended time is given to the song service. We appreciate having visitors but respectfully urge those Methodists who are living in Hamlin vicinity not to deteriorate into becoming so much driftwood floating down the stream of time. It is a detriment to the individual to lay out of church services and surely it does not give credit to the church to have this inactivity on the part of some who are good people but negligent. Snap out of that lethargy and give us your presence at services won't you? Sooner or later we will join in that great procession; the foolish had no oil in their vessels but the wise carried oil with them, and when the time finally came, they entered in with rejoicing. It's coming our time to march some day, brother. Let's be ready.

H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

WHEN THE DARK

ANGEL RIDES

The motor vehicle is no respecter of persons.

Hardly a week passes without newspaper headlines telling of the sudden death of some statesman, industrial leader or other celebrity.

A few recent names on the roster of those who died because of carelessly or recklessly driven motor vehicles, comes readily to mind. Not long ago, Colonel T. E. Shaw, the famed "Lawrence of Arabia," was killed when he fell from his motorcycle, which he was driving at 80 miles an hour. Only a few weeks ago the wife of the Secretary of Interior perished when the car in which she was riding at high speed skidded in loose gravel and overturned. Just before, the beautiful Queen Astrid of Belgium met her death—when her husband, driving the roadster in which she was riding, looked away from the highway at a road map, and ran headlong into a tree.

These tragedies become known in a million households, because of the prominence of the victims. But they are no worse, no more tragic, than the thousands of similar deaths which occur annually and make, instead of headlines, a mere item on an inside page of the newspapers. Recklessness, carelessness, incompetence—these are the scarlet trinity, which cause so much needless grief, so much unnecessary suffering, so great an economic waste. When one of these takes the wheel, death rides, too. The Dark Angel does not always strike—but there is a limit to how long he can be withheld.

Care, caution, competence—these constitute the trinity which can prevent automobile accidents, major and minor ones alike. The issue must be put squarely up to each driver—it is purely an individual problem, and will always remain so. Traffic laws and enforcement can do nothing if the public will not co-operate. Will you?

FALL STYLE SHOW

AT FERGUSON

An unusually attractive and varied array of new autumn styles was presented by Hamlin merchants, Wednesday evening, at the Ferguson Theatre in a Fall Style Show. The display consisted of children's frocks and hats, ladies' house dresses, street dresses, afternoon and evening gowns, suits, and coats, all with harmonizing accessories. Also featured, was a showing of latest wearing apparel for men.

The spacious theater stage was beautifully set for the occasion. In the center was an arch, twined with green vines and blossoms in shades of green and orchid. On either end of the stage were large baskets of the same colorful flowers completing a very artistic setting.

Mr. Gerald Morgan acted as Master of Ceremonies, introducing each model and the firm which they represented. Appropriate piano selection were rendered by Mr. Forrest Greenway.

Models for Campbell's display were Misses Eola Eddings, Wayne Howard and Mary Rippetoe, Mrs. Mack Rippetoe and Mr. J. E. McCoy.

Bryant-Link Co. was represented by Misses Gordon Bennett, Arice Jones; Misses Odessa Jones, Sara Ella Nicholson and little Miss Peggy Sue Barton.

Those modeling for The Ross Shoppe were Misses C. C. Jones, E. V. Mitchell; Misses Marcelle Jones and Lamoine Preston.

For the Strauss Dry Goods Co. models were Misses Naomi Rupert, Ann Ferguson, Elsie Wienke, Elmo Joy Wilson, Ruby Herr and Mr. Farrow Burns.

This Style Show, proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that Hamlin merchants ARE PREPARED to serve their customers with the newest and latest that is to be found in High Class merchandise. Their selections have been thoughtfully and carefully chosen in order that they might bring to their customers the newest in styles, colors and fabrics.

Why go elsewhere to spend your money when your home merchant can give you the best?

TEACHING FARM CO-OPERATION

According to a law passed by the Wisconsin legislature, co-operative marketing must now be taught in all Wisconsin state schools. Wisconsin is the first state to take such a step. The superintendent of public instruction and the dean of the college of agriculture are to prepare outlines and other text materials for guidance of teachers of co-operative marketing courses.

This action, by one of our foremost agricultural states, well illustrates the importance of agricultural co-operation in the life of the modern farmer. So vital has cooperative marketing become, that the farmer who does not join in the movement is almost always in an impossible economic position. Lacking the knowledge and the machinery that will enable him to produce in accordance with demand, and to achieve the best price for what he sells, he must fight a losing battle with the middleman. When a co-operative sells for the farmer, and brings into play bargaining powers as great as those of the distributor, a fair price must result.

NEXT WEEK FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR:

Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today, by reason of the fact that it has taken a heavy toll in the number of people burned to death annually and by reason of the further fact that this form of waste has proven to be a heavy financial burden on each of our citizens.

FIRE to a very large degree is preventable by the proper application in fire prevention and fire protection.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Joe Culbertson, Mayor of the city of Hamlin, do hereby proclaim the week of October 6 to 12 as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, during which WEEK I most respectfully urge our civic and commercial organizations, our school officials and teachers, and our citizenship as a whole, to co-operate and work with the fire chief, fire marshal and city officials in an effort to control this useless loss of life and property by fire. Every home and place of business should be inspected carefully and all fire hazards removed. . . . IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I hereunto sign my name and affix my seal of office this, the 2nd day of October, A. D. 1935.

BUYING POWER OF WHEAT

(Not Including Benefit Payments)

ARTICLES FARMERS BUY

THE sacks of wheat show how higher wheat prices are giving farmers more purchasing power, even without counting the adjustment payments. They show that when wheat was at a fair exchange value before the war, 15 bushels would buy a plow. In the depth of the depression in 1932 it took 55 bushels to buy the same plow, but in 1935 a farmer could buy the same plow with the money from 27 bushels of wheat. The sacks of wheat in the other squares show the purchasing power of wheat in terms of a suit of clothes, paint, and wire.

HAMLIN, TEXAS

IT TAKES TWO TO BE TRULY HAPPY

The most satisfying thrill that can come to the human heart is to know that you have actually aided someone in distress. There is no thrill that can compare with the consciousness of having done a friend a real favor. You will admit this, and, in acknowledging the truth, you destroy the cynical impression that others must have a mean motive when they do you a favor, or show you some courtesy or consideration.

The idea that a man has "fish to fry" every time you meet him sounds "fishy" to me.

The next time a man does a kindly act for you, accept the gracious gesture as a well-meaning motive. You will be happy, he will be happy, and you know it takes two to be truly happy.

WORK ATTACHED TO BEING

PANTRY DEMONSTRATOR

"I certainly worked one day last week," said Mrs. G. E. Lockard of the Moody Club, "I gathered black-eyed peas, shelled them and put up 18 No. 3 cans without any help. I am not satisfied with my pantry at present for the shelves are not filled.

However, I expect to have all the shelves filled by the first of November." Mrs. Lockard says there surely is plenty of work attached to being Pantry Demonstrator for a club but I am getting so much pleasure and benefit from it that I am glad to serve my club in this way.

FOUNDATION PATTERNS

DEMONSTRATED

Co. H. Dem. Agt. Miss Evelyn Jennings was invited to visit on Monday and demonstrate Foundation pattern making at the home of Miss Vera Turnbow, who is instructor for the adult class in Foods and Sewing in her community. A luncheon was served at 12:00 which had been prepared by the members of Miss Turnbow's class in cooking and consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, creamed English peas, light bread, tomatoes and lettuce, and butterscotch pie for dessert, iced tea was the drink served with this luncheon. There were eleven ladies present for this event. Miss Turnbow to be commended on the splendid manner in which she conducts her work. Mrs. Quinn remarked that if she could take her foundation pattern and make all her clothing from it that it surely would be priceless to her; others in the meeting agreed that foundation patterns were a real blessing to the rural women and they are glad to have Miss Turnbow as their leader in the advancement of such good work.

GOVERNMENT BANK UNSUITED TO U. S.

Would Serve Politics Rather Than Business Needs, Says R. S. Hecht, Citing Previous Experiences.

QUOTES PRESIDENT JACKSON

Extent and Diversity of This Country Presents Different Situation From Europe and Makes Regional Banking Necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A refutation of arguments in favor of a government owned central bank system for the United States is presented in a statement by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, based on exhaustive studies of European central banks. He also points out the disastrous consequences of previous central bank experiments in the United States.

"Our present regional Federal Reserve System under private ownership is infinitely better for this country than would be a government-owned and controlled central bank," Mr. Hecht says. "If history teaches us anything, it is that it is almost certain that a central bank so owned would be run to meet the varying exigencies of the government in power rather than to serve the commercial needs of the country."

Central banking has been tried twice in the United States, but was finally abolished because the credit control which the central banks exercised became objectionable and unpopular, he goes on to say.

What Andrew Jackson Said

"The continued existence of the Second Bank finally became a bitter political issue and President Jackson succeeded in abolishing it," Mr. Hecht says. "Permit me to quote from his farewell address: 'The immense capital and peculiar privileges bestowed upon it enabled it to exercise despotic sway over the other banks in every part of the country. From its superior strength it could seriously injure, if not destroy the business of any of them which might incur its resentment. . . . If you had not conquered, the government would have passed from the hands of the many to the hands of the few; and this organized money power, from its secret conclave, would have dictated the choice of your highest officers. . . . The forms of your government might for a time, have remained, but its living spirit would have departed from it.'"

When the Wilson Administration considered banking reform it carefully kept away from vesting central banking powers in a single institution and instead introduced the regional idea by creating twelve reserve banks located in different economic and geographical sections of the country, Mr. Hecht says, a plan that has worked exceedingly well because the separate banks are under the guidance of men chosen on account of their intimate acquaintance with the problems and needs of their respective territories. He continues:

"The great size and diversity of America tends to make a central bank undesirable. The central banks of Europe such as the Banks of England, France and Germany, cover areas not as large as some of our states. A central bank in the United States on the other hand would be called upon to administer the financial policies of an area larger than all of Europe, in which there are quite a number of central banks.

Subservient to Popular Demands

"Moreover, history has proven that any banking system entirely owned and dominated by the government usually demonstrates much greater ability in aiding expansion of credit than in putting on the brakes at the right time to prevent undue inflation by restraining and contracting credit. This is easy to understand because in times of depression everyone is urging the government to make money and credit easy and to encourage expansion.

"On the other hand, it always has been and always will be a difficult task for any government to call a halt in time of apparent prosperity because in the very nature of things the government would be very sensitive to public criticism and would hesitate to take any action which would tend to curtail business activity. It is such undue susceptibility to popular demands which makes government banking inherently weak.

"Our studies show that of all the central banks at present existing there are only four whose stock is owned by the government. The newest central bank is that of Canada, which opened its doors only a few months ago after a most exhaustive study had been made of the experience of all nations with the result that the stock of the Bank of Canada is privately owned."

The American Bankers Association, Mr. Hecht says, is convinced that a central bank would not be in the interest of the public or the banks. This position, he added, is "well understood by the President and the leaders in his Administration for we have been

Refreshing Relief When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . . Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

SCHOOL LUNCHES That Ring The Bell

THEY don't creep like snails "unwillingly to school" any more. Watch them. It's a sunny day in September. There's a campus and an athletic field around even the most humble school house. There's a basket ball game to be played before school; there's an orchestra rehearsal scheduled before the nine o'clock bell rings; or there's a marble game tournament to be decided, or something else nice that's very, very important.

Modern educators have seen to that. And they've done a good job of it. They've made school not merely a preparation for life, but a life right now—living in a big, big way.

Give Mother a Hand

Mothers, too, have done their part. They have organized Parent-Teacher's associations to co-operate. And they've studied the problem of dietetics, so that the foods which this important generation eats will best equip them for these interesting and healthful activities.

Lunch boxes are no longer carriers of something to merely "hold you over" until the evening dinner hour. They are exciting little adventures in themselves containing good things that you devour. It is easier today than it used to be, to prepare these lunches. There are canned fruit juices and thermos bottles to keep them cold; there are canned sandwich spreads and sliced bread to spread them on. There are even such new foods in cans as Brown Betty, or baked apples. There are wooden or paper spoons to eat these delicious desserts with, so that even boys who don't like to carry spoons back home again can enjoy eating desserts and toss away the spoons.

Hot or Cold?

If you live near enough the school, or the school bus, a hot home lunch is better, as a regular thing. But if not, it isn't difficult to prepare a carry-lunch that will rival the home-served noonday meal. Here are some menu suggestions for both sorts:

Shining Hair For Halo Hats

by Gloria Lane

VIRGINIA DIX, featured player in several technicolor productions is among the first to adopt a new madonna-like coiffure as influenced by the old Italian Renaissance paintings. For her new fall halo hat, she wears a center part with her hair smooth and shining on top of her head and brushed out curls giving fullness to sides and back.

FALL MEALS NEED MORE FRUIT

DENTON, Oct. 1.—Fall and winter months bring to the housewife again the problem of keeping some kind of fruit on the table. During the summer months fruit is abundant and the price is low, but in the fall and winter fruit is more scarce and the cost is greater. Yet it is during these months, when the hours of sunshine are fewer, that fruit is needed the most to furnish the vitamins, minerals and cellulose that are valuable in regulating the body.

Two pathways are open to the woman who wishes to keep fruit on the menu and who finds fresh fruits too expensive or unavailable: she may substitute canned fruit or she may make use of dried fruits or citrus fruits. The dried fruits are usually cheaper, but the canned fruit market offers a wider range of selection. Either offers a solution to the problem of keeping the table supplied with valuable substances during the seasons when fresh fruits are scarce.

RECIPES

Baked Apples: 6 apples, 2 T. raisins, one-third cup sugar, and lemon juice. Wash and core the apples; fill centers with chopped dried fruit, sugar and lemon juice. Place in a pan and add water to cover the bottom of the pan. Bake at 350-400 F. until tender.

Stuffed Prunes: 1 lb. stewed prunes (sweetened), 12 marshmallows, one-half cup nuts. Stone the prunes. Cut the marshmallows into strips and put one strip of marshmallow and a nut into each prune. Serve with whipped cream.

Apricot Short Cake: 2 cups flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1 T. sugar, one-half tsp. salt, 4 T. fat, 1 egg, one-half cup water, and 1 qt. can apricots. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt; add fat and cut in thoroughly; add water and beaten egg and add this to the dry ingredients slowly. Roll on a floured board to about one-half inch thickness. Cut with a very large biscuit cutter, dipped in flour. Bake in a hot oven at 475 F. ten to twelve minutes. Split while hot and butter and fill with crushed canned apricots. Put on the tops and cover with apricots and whipped cream.

INVENTORS AND NEW JOBS

(An Editorial from the Rotarian Magazine)

The tap-root of the unemployment problem that so vexes mankind today is the amazing spurt human intelligence has taken in the past two centuries. After we call it Science, or simply The Machine. But in consideration of its social effects, either characterization is inadequate and often misleading.

This English economist, Ravenhear, has pointed out. He distinguished between inventions which, like the automobile, make many jobs where few were before, and those which refine and perfect processes, reducing the number of men employed. Recent years have been relatively sterile in development of "new things" which create employment, but highly productive in inventions which reduce it.

A recent survey of the automobile industry, once a creator of new jobs, brings to light these significant facts, reported in "The New York Times": "In 1930 about 250 men finished 100 motor blocks in a unit of time. Now nineteen finish 250 in the same time.

"A new photoelectric inspecting machine dispenses with ten to twenty human inspectors.

"A device operated by liquid air puts ring-inserts in cylinder blocks and reduces labor cost 60 per cent.

"In 1929 the labor cost of one manufacturer's door was $4. In 1935 it is 15 cents.

"If used full time, an automatic buffer in a hardware plant can displace fifty men.

"Welding machines enable three men to do what nineteen did six years ago."

These statistics are startling, for doubtless they reflect a similar condition in other industries. That being so, is it correct to assume that inventors who eliminate jobs are to continue to be more productive than those who create jobs? Or is the slack of technological unemployment to be taken up by new job-making industries, such as Diesel engines and air conditioning? If not, is society to have a steadily increasing army of the permanently unemployed? Or, will lagging social science discover better ways to distribute work—and leisure time—among the many for the benefit of the many?

WHO OWES YOU A LIVING?

Millions of people are being educated in our country today to believe that someone owes them a living. The laws of nature do not seem to recognize this doctrine.

Just go out into primitive country and see who owes who a living—you will soon find that your existence depends on your ingenuity and initiative.

Governments were organized to go nature one better and make it a little easier to live and to take care of the helpless whom nature would otherwise unceremoniously remove.

But today millions of perfectly healthy, able-bodied people are being taught to loaf at the expense of the savings of other, instead of to rustle for themselves.

Such a system can endure only so long as there are stored-up savings to confiscate, then the inexorable laws of nature will prevail.

An epidemic of pests completely devours a tree or a field of grain, and then the pests die. Nature does not owe them a living.

The same thing can happen to governments and to the human beings who make the governments—if they eat up their capital to maintain idleness, they will eventually find that nature refuses to hear their demands that "someone owes them a living."

This may not be a pleasant-sounding philosophy, but it is a fact which honey-coated, political cure-alls try to hide.

HAIL! SQUAD OF '35-'36 IS HERE

The PEP Squad had its first meeting on the morning of Sept. 27, 1935. The squad this year consists of both boys and girls. The girls have decided that they need the masculine voice to help them yell for this season.

The teachers who have been elected sponsors of the squad are Miss Ruby Phenix and Mrs. Larkin, the latter having been a member of Abilene's High School Pep Squad for a number of years.

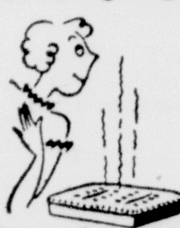

The officers are: President, Doris Steed, vice president, C. J. Adkins, Secretary and Treasurer, Mary Beth Moody and yell leaders, Ann Ferguson and Harrison Watson.

Coach Morris has complimented the Pep Squad on the large number enrolled. All the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors are urged to join and to help us yell for the team. One of the things the High School needs this year is a pep squad so large that we can be heard in all four corners of Jones County and we are trying our best to get one. Come on you, the people of Hamlin, and help the team to win and the Pep squad to yell!

TRAVEL the whole world over and you will not find a more entrancing fragrance—according to my lights—than the smell of a fresh-baked cherry cobbler, or a more enticing sight than a good-sized square of it with hard sauce, flavored with a hint of clove, or with thick, sweet cream to pour over it. I always make a lot—because my sons bring all the younger neighbors in to sample it.

Sour Cherry Cobbler

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; ¾ cup sugar; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 3 cups pitted and drained sour red cherries, fresh or canned; 1 cup cherry juice; 2 cups sifted flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 6 tablespoons butter or other shortening; ¾ cup milk (about).

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, butter, cherries, and cherry juice; let stand while crust is being made. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually, stirring until soft dough is formed. Turn out on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds, or enough to shape. Roll 2/3 of dough in strip, 2 inches wide and ¼ inch thick; line sides of 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan, fitting closely into corners. Fill with cherry mixture. Roll remaining 1/3 dough ¼ inch thick; with sharp knife make slits to permit escape of steam. Fit over cherries, pressing edges of dough together with fork dipped in flour. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes; then reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 25 to 30 minutes longer. Sprinkle powdered sugar over top, if desired.

"Since I have taken the 4-H pantry demonstration in the Stith Home Demonstration Club, I have canned and help can over 1100 quarts of food," said Mrs. Paul Bradley.

"I now plan to build 12 inch shelves on one side and the end of my cellar, placing these shelves 10 1/2 inches above each other so that I can store my part of these canned products," Mrs. Bradley continued.

Mrs. Bradley then plans to arrange her products on the shelves beginning with the top shelves and working down, using the following grouping in the order named: Fruits and vegetables, tomatoes and tomato juice, pickles and relishes, jellies, jams and preserves, vegetables with corn placed on the lowest vegetable shelves and meats on the bottom shelves.

More than 300 entries were made in the Jones County Home Demonstration Exhibit which was held in Anson Sept. 20-21 with Miss El Flea Harrison, Shackelford County Home Demonstration Agent and Miss Peggy Taylor, Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent as judges.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Last Wednesday, Sept. 25, at 9:30 o'clock Mrs. J. J. Herbst willingly left her canning to go with her son, Rufus Herbst, to inspect the crops. Little did she realize the surprise in store for her, because she had almost forgotten it was her seventy-fifth birthday. She had been gone but a few minutes when numbers of relatives and close friends began to arrive, each one bringing covered dishes. At a quarter to twelve the house was all in order, a delicious dinner on the table and pies and cakes in abundance.

As the guests arrived, they parked their cars a distance from the house and entirely out of sight, therefore, when Mrs. Herbst returned and entered the old familiar gate, everything about the home looked just as it did when she left it. Paul, her Newfoundland dog, met her at the gate as if he wanted to tell her what had been taking place in her absence, and warn her of the many friendly eyes watching her from every window, so that the surprise would not be too great, when she opened the door and heard the chorus of happy birthday greetings.

After the enjoyable dinner, the afternoon was spent in chatter of pioneer days and looking at the family album. Mrs. Herbst remembers Mr. Will Fomby, who was present at her surprise dinner, as the first young man she and her husband, the late J. J. Herbst, met when they settled in Jones County forty-five years ago.

Those enjoying this happy affair were, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fomby, Mrs. Carrie Whitaker, Mrs. E. A. Isbill, Mrs. David Whitaker and sons, Robert and Wilke, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Proffitt, Mrs. Nane Proffitt and son, A. J., Mr. and Mrs. Dave Herbst, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shields, of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Giles and son, Bud, also of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Herbst and daughter, Rheba, Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon and Mr.

and Mrs. Odell McCray and daughter, of Stamford.

FISHER COUNTY STORAGE PROGRAM

That 4-H Club work touches a good many things necessary to home life was made plain in the Svedonia Club meeting at Mrs. J. M. Dodds last Thursday, September 17.

Our president, Mrs. R. M. Young, called us to order by an opening song. This song was "Texas," a Fisher County product by Mrs. Ella Hudson Day of Rotan.

Mrs. Young gave a report of the "Council Meeting" on Monday, September 15. This meeting was interesting and instructive, giving a "Model Club Meeting." Mrs. Young explained about the Home Improvement contest. All who live on a State or Federal Highway may enter the State Yard Improvement contest. This means anyone. Not just club members. The council voted to have a County improvement contest. Anyone not on the highways may enter this.

In the Ball canning contest, each club is to have a contest in their club, each entering 1 qt. jar of fruit and 1 quart jar of non-acid vegetables. The winner in this will take their exhibit to Roby, in November to the County Contest. The prizes of this contest will go to the club winning, not the member unless there are less than 250 members entering in the County.

In November the 4-H Clubs are to have an exhibit. Each Club will have a club exhibit of canned food and also an educational exhibit. This educational exhibit will give instructions in the steps taken in making the many different things that we make in our homes.

The Council voted to ask each Club to send one man, one woman, one boy and one girl to the County Recreational meetings to receive instructions in the Recreational work. These four will then carry this information back to each community. In this way there will be not so much confusion at the county meetings.

Next we had the program which was on "Storage of Canned Foods, Dried Products, Root Vegetables, Cured Meats, Seeds, Spices and Home Grown Herbs and Recipes and Bulletin files." The canned foods discussion was led by Mrs. Rector. We learned that the ideal place for canned foods is a concrete cellar with shelves 1 foot wide and 1 foot deep. With bins underneath for storing other foods. All glass canned foods should be kept in a dark place to retain their color, etc. All meats should be stored in the lowest shelves as they should be kept as cool as possible.

Dried products discussion led by Mrs. Dodds. A good way to keep dried fruits is in buckets with tight lids. Beans, peas, etc., should be put in tight boxes, barrels or anything that can be closed tight and a small bottle of carbon with punctured lid. For immediate use heat them until they are pretty warm for 30 minutes. Dried corn may be kept in buckets or even paper sacks. Root vegetable discussion led by Mrs. McKay. Place these on raised mounds or dry dirt and stack corn stalks or other dry bundle stuff upright around them to drain the water away. Throw dirt up around the bottom. They may be kept in boxes of dry sand in the cellar or even in pits in the open ground. Always covering with dry sand and drawing the water away.

Cured Meats led by Mrs. Cypert. We learned some new ways of storing is to cut into 6 or 8 in squares and pack in large lard cans or stone jars and cover with lard just melted. Sausage may be sacked or cased and cooked in the boiling lard, then packed down in the lard. A good way to keep bacon for seasoning is to cut in 5 or 6 in squares and boil in brine that will float an egg till the blood in the lean part is congealed. Pack in jars or wooden keg and pour boiling brine over and weight down. Will be like fresh pork when used. Some have kept hams and fresh beef in this way. Another way to keep meat wilted in warm weather is to fry it down and pour lard over it.

Dried herbs are kept in thin cloth sacks in a dry place. Recipes and bulletins should be kept in indexed card boxes — in some convenient place.

The hostess served refreshments of cake and ice cream to eleven club members and Mmes. Virgie Young, John B. Rector, Homer Dodds, who were visitors.

We feel that our club work is proving to be very worth while and very interesting.

—REPORTER.

SELL SERVICE, NOT GOODS

One of the most striking developments in industrial and social life during recent years has been the deepening realization that service is an ideal for business builders. Service is, in fact, now an essential function of all business activity.—Sir Herbert Austin, English automotive manufacturer, in the Rotarian Magazine.

INFORMATION REGARDING #### SCHOOL PUPILS AID

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 1.—"Eight thousand five hundred and forty-seven part-time jobs will be given Texas high school students if school officials take immediate steps in presenting applications to the National Youth Administration," Lyndon B. Johnson, State Director, stated today.

In securing funds allocated to each county in Texas participating in the $6 per month high school aid program the student, the principal and the Co. Supt. must follow certain necessary and definitely outlined steps.

"An eligible student, that is one who is between the age of 16 and 25, now in high school, single, whose family is certified for relief, who has ability to do high grade work in school, and who without financial assistance could not attend school, files application with the Principal of the school he wishes to attend," Johnson pointed.

"The Principal, whose duty is to place all applications received by him, also submits a list, in duplicate, of the eligible applicants to the Social Service Department in the county for verification of the relief status of the students' families. After jobs have been prorated among schools throughout the county, the Principal of each school submits to the Co. Supt. a project application in affidavit form asking for his quota of jobs at $6 pr job, together, with the students' applications properly executed," Johnson said.

The County Superintendent, who will be responsible for this program in each county, will upon receiving these applications from the Principal sign and submit to Lyndon B. Johnson, State Director, National Youth Administration, Austin, Texas, all project applications in triplicate with students' applications attached, the total amount of funds asked for in all his applications not to exceed the total allotment to his county.

A Placement Committee, composed of the County Superintendent, the Case Worker in charge of that county and the City School Superintendent in school districts having a scholastic population of 500 or more, will determine the amount of funds that each school in that county shall receive.

Part-time jobs assigned to students are designed to provide socially desirable work, such as clerical, library, campus improvement, playground supervision, assistance to high school nurses in giving physical examinations and in rendering first aid, acting as traffic officers at near-by elementary school as safety measures, assistant in laboratories, and similar worthwhile capacities.

"Unless school officials throughout the State take immediate action in submitting high school aid applications, it will be necessary for the National Youth Administration to take those funds declined by negligent offices and distribute them elsewhere, probably in metropolitan centers," Johnson said.

WHAT IS PROFIT?

The profit motive, currently in bad repute in certain quarters, turns out upon scrutiny, to be something more than a panting covetousness. A profit is not only money, it is not only the wherewith to provide "the Misus" a car, Junior a college education, and father himself a new bag of clubs; a profit is also evidence—evidence of mastery, of conquest, of sound planning and shrewd management, of a service rendered. A profit is not only velvet to a man's pocket: It is soup to his anxious ego.—Farnsworth Crowder in The Rotarian.

Considering how many opportunities we have for making mistakes, even the worst of us do pretty well.

WHAT if the world is topsy-turvy, when upside-down cakes are as good as this one—and made with only one egg! You'll think it's unbelievable. It's the cake flour, of course, that gives it that luxurious texture. Make it with peaches now that they are in season. Later on you'll use the recipe over and over with canned pineapple rings, cooked apricots, prunes, and tart sliced apples. It's a grand dessert.

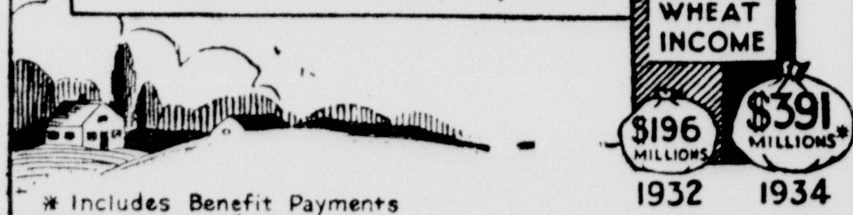

Peach Upside Down Cake
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour; 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup granulated sugar; 4 tablespoons softened butter or other shortening; 1 egg, well beaten; 1/2 cup milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla; 4 tablespoons butter; 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 2 cups sliced peaches (fresh or canned).

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift together three times. Add butter. Combine egg, milk, and vanilla. Add to flour mixture, stirring until all flour is dampened; then beat vigorously 1 minute. Melt 4 tablespoons butter in 8x8x2-inch pan or 8-inch skillet over low flame; add brown sugar (1/4 teaspoon nutmeg may be mixed with brown sugar, if desired), and stir until melted. On this arrange peach slices. Turn batter over contents of pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 minutes, or until done. Loosen cake from sides of pan with spatula. Serve upside down on dish with peaches on top. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Wheat Adjustment Safeguards Wheat Income

HIGHLIGHTS OF WHEAT ADJUSTMENT

- 1 Adjusts Production to Demand
- 2 Increases Farm Purchasing Power
- 3 Provides Adequate Supplies
- 4 Encourages Sound Farm Practices
- 5 Is Based on Voluntary Cooperation

THIS chart shows how the Agricultural Adjustment Administration wheat program has safeguarded wheat farmers' income. For 1932 when there was no program, cash income to farmers from wheat was $196,000,000. For 1934 higher prices and adjustment payments brought a cash income of $391,000,000. The wheat program seeks: (1) to produce wheat for available markets; (2) to increase farm purchasing power; (3) to produce adequate supplies at all times for domestic use; (4) to encourage sound farming through diversion of land to soil-improving and erosion-preventing crops; and (5) to make voluntary cooperation more profitable to farmers than non-cooperation.
